The Becton, Dickinson Action and Patent Cross License

As previously disclosed, 10x Genomics, Inc. (the “Company”) has been involved in patent litigation with Becton, Dickinson and Company (“BD”) and Cellular Research, Inc. In November 2018, BD and Cellular Research, Inc. (together, the “BD Entities”) alleged that the Company infringed certain patents. In September 2019, the Company filed counterclaims alleging that the BD Entities infringed a number of the Company’s patents. The Company recently entered into a settlement and patent cross license agreement (the “Agreement”) with the BD Entities.

The Agreement resolved all currently outstanding patent litigation between the parties (the “Litigation”), which was dismissed with prejudice on October 21, 2019. Under the terms of the Agreement, the BD Entities granted the Company and its affiliates, and the Company granted BD and its affiliates, a worldwide, royalty-free, non-exclusive, fully paid-up license to certain patents and patent applications relating to molecular barcoding and single cell analysis, including to all the patents asserted in the Litigation. The Company will make an aggregate payment of $25 million to BD in annual amounts of $6.25 million over four years beginning in January 2020 in connection with the Agreement. As part of the Agreement, each party, on behalf of itself and its affiliates, has also entered into a covenant not to sue in certain fields related to each company’s products. The companies have also agreed on behalf of themselves and their affiliates to refrain from challenging the patents and patent applications licensed under the Agreement.

The information furnished pursuant to Item 7.01 in this Current Report on Form 8-K shall not be deemed “filed” for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference into any other filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.
